FOREWORD

The general management of the officiating program in West Virginia secondary schools is vested with the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission.

The WVSSAC knows that quality officiating is an important part of the athletic program. For this reason, considerable time, effort, and money is spent on training programs, clinics, films, testing, promotional and classification systems and administrative details to increase the knowledge and improve the techniques of over 3,000 registered officials in our state officiating program.

Sportsmanship is an issue of extreme importance. It is an issue that is basic to the educational mission of interscholastic athletics. Without the lifetime values that come from exhibiting good sportsmanship, we lose the educational reason for sponsoring and supporting athletic activities.

Athletic environments which create positive experiences do not occur by chance, rather they are a result of the educational structure, the right perspective, the right leadership and true understanding of sportsmanship. All participants in an athletic contest must keep a proper educational perspective, this includes players, coaches, officials, administrators, media, parents and the community.

Rules and mechanics must be mastered by individual officials in order to conduct contests fairly and safely. Also, the mastery of rules knowledge and officiating mechanics permits officials to move to higher levels of participation in their chosen sport.

The National Federation of State High School Associations speaks directly to the role of the official: "Training programs for officials in each sport not only improve the quality of officiating but also have a great influence on the entire program of sportsmanship and on the healthy relationship among officials, coaches, administrators and schools. The officials' training program is inseparably linked to the total athletic program."

Image is a part of officiating! An official should look, feel and act the part. Role modeling is an important part of officiating. An official can earn respect by:

- (1) Being in good physical condition
- (2) Being neat, clean and dressed in the proper uniform
- (3) Having a good attitude and
- (4) Being approachable but not too friendly.

Though often a solitary figure in the athletic arena, the game official is a beacon of fairness and sportsmanship and a symbol of everything right about sports. The sports official has a very important role to uphold and nurture - an authority to be respected and revered - CAN YOU LIVE UP TO THESE EXPECTATIONS?

It is the official's responsibility to thoroughly read, understand, and follow all rules and regulations as set forth in this document.

To assist officials in understanding regulations, frequently asked questions and clarifications are located in the back of this Handbook.

Officials suspended for reasons other than 1 or 2 must have their application for reinstatement approved by both the local Board and the WVSSAC.

L. Clinic Attendance

The WVSSAC conducts a series of rules clinics each year throughout the State.

Each official is required to attend this yearly clinic in the sport he or she is registered. Officials registration will not be valid if the official fails to attend a WVSSAC sponsored rules clinic for the current year in the sport of registration. Failure to attend the required WVSSAC clinic will result in suspension the current season.

Any person arriving more than ten minutes late from the scheduled start time shall be given a card that will be stamped with "Appeal." This person shall set forth the reasons for his/her late arrival at the clinic, and within five (5) days from the date of the clinic, a decision will be rendered by the WVSSAC as to whether this official will be given credit for the clinic. If the reason for tardiness is not accepted, then this official will be required to attend another clinic of this sport.

Additional Option For Clinic Attendance

The rules for officials currently provide that if an official fails to attend a WVSSAC sponsored rules clinic for the sport for which he or she is registered, the official will be suspended for the current year. The Board of Directors has also approved the following:

If an official fails to attend a regularly scheduled clinic or the scheduled make-up clinic for the sport in which he or she is registered, the official will be suspended for the current year. However, the official may be reinstated for the current year upon paying a fee of $50.00 and attending a special videotaped make-up clinic at the WVSSAC office in Parkersburg. Clinic attendance for a given year must be accomplished on or before the first playing date in that sport to have credit for attending the clinic and to be eligible to officiate during that year.
